- Day 3 We depart Kathmandu on an early morning mountain flight to the Hillary built airstrip at Lukla, altitude 2,840m. The day is spent with our Sherpa staff visiting Lukla Monastery and School, and then to Lukla Hospital; with time to enjoy the peace of this town at the gateway to the Everest Valley. We overnight with our friend Dawa Tshering at his Himalaya Lodge.
- Day 4 Lukla to Ghaat Village: A short walk down the valley to the banks of the Dhudkosi River and the village of Ghaat where we spend the day with the local Primary School. A one hour walk takes us to Phakdingma which will be our home for 2 nights as part of our acclimitisation; we stay with Tshering Nima at the Namaste Lodge.
- Day 5 Phakdingma: We will spend half of our day working on our Reforestation Project on the slopes of Gumela; re-establishing the conifer forests is a vital environmental project in this area. The balance of our day will be resting, washing, reading, and preparing for the walk to Namche.

- Day 8 Namche to Kanjuma: A steep trail takes us to the village of Khunde, well known for its hospital established by Sir Edmund Hillary in the 1960's. After a short visit to the hospital we walk to Khunde's twin village of Khumjung, the location of another Hillary legacy, the Khumjung School. After lunch we journey to Kanjuma, where we stay at the appropriately named Ama Dablam View Lodge. The view of this mountain, the Matterhorn of the Himalaya, is spectacular.

- Day 9 Kanjuma to Deboche: An awe inspiring day takes us from 3,550m to 3,710m at Deboche, and will have us on the trail for approximately 6 hours. We trek the Thyangboche Hill and then cross the plateau to Deboche: stunning views are in every direction. Our accommodation is in the very comfortable Rivendall Lodge.

- Day 11 Deboche to Namche: We're on the downhill journey, and a substantial descent to 3,440m. We are back in the Sherpa capital, and reach our destination in time for lunch and enjoy a relaxing afternoon and maybe a little shopping.
- Day 12 Namche to Phakdingma: We are in familiar territory as we head down the Namche Hill, and then on our way to the peaceful village of Phakdingma.
- Day 13 Phakdingma to Lukla: Our penultimate day in the Everest Valley as we reflect on our achievements and return to Lukla, our set-off point 10 days earlier. We are welcomed back by Dawa Tshering to the Himalaya Lodge.

- Notes -
- If you require travel to/from Auckland, please note that internal travel arrangements are your own responsibility. You must arrive in Auckland in plenty of time to ensure you meet our international flight; you should allow a minimum of 4 hours before scheduled departure time whether you are travelling by plane or car to Auckland; this way you should avoid being caught by unexpected delays.
  - We recommend you do not book any internal connecting flights to Auckland until 6 weeks before departure date to ensure any schedule changes by our international carrier do not clash with any prebooked internal flights. Be wary of internal flight conditions that may make them difficult to change in the event you need to.
  - If you need a travel agent to book your internal flights we recommend you talk to Phillip Harris at Mondo Travel, Motueka, who handles our international bookings. Phillip is contactable at 03 528 1550, or email him on phil.harris@mondotravel.co.nz.
  - We will supply you with a high quality kit-bag prior to your departure; you will use this for your gear that you take on the trek. Your trek kit-bag, when fully packed, must weigh no more than 15kg; this is a restriction on the internal flight to Lukla, as well as being a realistic limitation on what we expect our porters to carry for us. So please be sparing in what you bring and economise on weight wherever possible. You may take additional clothing etc (and suitcase) and leave this at our hotel in Kathmandu. Overall weight limit on our international flights is 20kg.
  - Items in italics are subject to confirmation and may change.
